ISSUE 25 | TERM 4 | WEEK 1

Year 9 students learn skills for the future

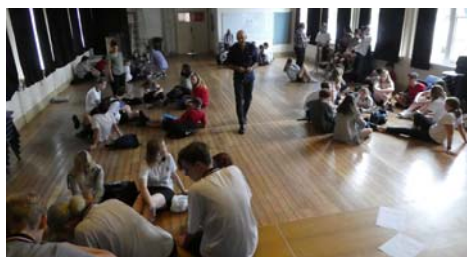

Year 9 students who are studying the MYJOB Project Based Learning course attended a presentation on Thursday to gain knowledge about real world projects that are changing the world. Presenters, Barry Hill from Southern Cross University and Peter Smith from Lismore TAFE, displayed and described examples of projects that they have collaborated on that produce potential solutions to current problems. Students also heard about preparation for and choice of future employment opportunities and how these choices have changed significantly from the past and will continue to do so into the future.

Quick quiz: which device consumes more power over a 10-20 second period; a toaster or a stack of music amplifiers you might see on stage at a large music festival? Answer: Toaster (2000watts) compared to festival amplifiers (800 watts). This is the kind of understanding that promotes questioning around how we can change the way we live to benefit the future and this is one thing that students learnt in the presentation.

Students will now spend the rest of the term taking on a number of challenges that will provide them with the opportunity to produce innovative solutions to world problems. Students will present their solutions in a 'Shark Tank' style in Week 9 and these could potentially be adopted by SCU or TAFE, to be developed into fully functioning applications in the community.

Careers Adviser News

From UNE Armidale -

I am pleased to advise that due to the popularity of the Rural Scholars Summer School, we are now accepting further applications until midnight Sunday 15 October.

Applications can be filled in from our web page <http://une.edu.au/ruralscholars> - you will find the Apply Now button on the right hand side.

The application form includes three sections:

1. Personal and schooling details
2. Application questions, which are based around why the applicant wants to attend
3. A recommendation from a teacher, career advisor, principal or employer.

The recommendation should be not more than one A4 page and we would prefer this in PDF format.

Contact Kirra Porter on 6773 2185 for further information.

An opportunity for rural, regional and low SES school students and school leavers, to take the first step towards a career in medicine.

At the University of New England, we are passionate about promoting quality medical care in our local and rural communities. Evidence tells us that students from rural backgrounds are more likely to become rural doctors and serve their rural communities. However, the very first step of accessing a medical education is often the most difficult.

The Rural Scholars Summer School is open to anyone 15 years and over who is interested in pursuing a career in medicine, and lives in a rural, remote or low-SES area. Regardless of whether you are a high-school student or school leaver, if you are passionate about making a difference in rural and regional areas, we want to help you succeed.

Throughout the Summer School, attendees (and their parent/guardian, for those under 18 years) will experience the town of Armidale, the University Colleges and ultimately what it is like to be a Rural Medicine student with our school.

The school is fully subsidised for successful applicants and for an accompanying parent/guardian for participants under 18 years old (costs covered include accommodation on campus, meals and transport).

DATES:
Monday 13 to Friday 17 November 2017

APPLICATIONS:
Apply online at une.edu.au/ruralscholars by Sunday 15th October

Year 7 Study Skills

Last Term Year 7 had the opportunity to reflect on their sense of self and the things that have had the greatest influence on who they are. They expressed this in both a visual and written representation and had the opportunity to leave their mark at RRHC in the Year 7 area. We wanted them to know that it is the people and their stories who make our school and not just the buildings where we meet. We would like to thank Bunnings Warehouse, Lismore for the generous donation of outdoor colour pots that made this project both possible and sustainable.

National Art School Success - Arundhati Gotz

In July and September of this year I attended the HSC Intensive Studio Practice at the National Art School in Sydney. This was a highly engaging experience. It gave me an insight into the lifestyle of being an artist and finishing artworks within a timeframe for exhibitions. I believe this is an amazing opportunity for Year 11 Visual Arts students of next year if you are passionate about art making. It allows you to work with students from all around NSW, be given advice by teachers at the Art School, and work on your own individual art.

Good Luck

13 October 2017

Dear Students

Congratulations on reaching the culmination of thirteen years of education.

This achievement is a personal milestone reflecting your dedication and commitment to schooling. This would not have been possible without the support of your family, teachers, school and friends.

I would like to wish you well in the forthcoming Higher School Certificate examinations and trust that your future will be blessed with health, happiness and success.

Thinking of you all.

Yours sincerely

George
